Transfer Credit Policy

For ADN, LPN to RN, 3-year BSN, RN to BSN and RN-BSN to MSN Programs and Program Options.

Chamberlain College of Nursing welcomes transfer students from two- and four-year colleges accredited by agencies recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). An applicant seeking to transfer credit from another institution must request a credit evaluation prior to the first semester at Chamberlain and provide an official transcript from the institution where the credit was earned. Transfer of courses is considered on an individual basis. Official foreign transcripts must be evaluated by a National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES) approved evaluating agency. Chamberlain may require a catalog or additional material and all transfer credit must comply with residency and curriculum requirements.

Transferring courses may affect eligibility for financial assistance. Contact a student services representative for more information. Transfer credit that satisfies graduation requirements is considered when determining a student's academic level and progress. However, this credit is not used when computing GPA. Students should be aware that actual degree requirements vary from institution to institution. If considering a transfer to Chamberlain College of Nursing, students should examine Chamberlain requirements early in their college experience to begin making transfer plans in advance. Transfer students must follow the Chamberlain College of Nursing admission guidelines and procedures.

Transfer credit generally is not awarded for coursework taken at another institution after initial enrollment at Chamberlain. If there are extenuating circumstances, such as lack of course availability or scheduling conflicts, a student may request permission from the dean to enroll in another institution. Transfer credit requested after initial registration must be approved by the dean prior to the student registering for a course at any other institution. Chamberlain does not guarantee transferability of credits to any other institution. Any decision in comparability, appropriateness, and applicability of credits and whether they should be accepted is at the discretion of the receiving institution.

For additional transfer credit guidelines, please see the Undergraduate Academic Catalog at chamberlain.edu/undergradcatalog.

Institution Graduation Rates

The federal Student-Right-To-Know Act requires institutions to make completion rates available upon request to prospective students and other interested parties. The Act defines the cohort of students on which the institution must report. This cohort is comprised of "first-time, full-time, degree-seeking" students in the institution's fall term that completed their program of study within 150 percent of their program length.

The chart at chamberlain.edu/gradrates shows the completion rates for the cohorts of first-time, full-time students who entered in fall 2005.

Students not satisfied with the final disposition of the grievance process may contact the campus or program leadership, state licensing authority, the College's accreditor or the state attorney general.
